This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

The most important sale of the season — indeed, for several seasons — was that of the library of the late Augustin Daly, sold at the American Art Galleries the last of March. The sale of the art objects, books, and manuscripts occupied ten days of two sessions each. The library was primarily dramatic in character, but rather as a history of the stage than as a collection of the works of the great dramatists. No attempt had been made at bringing together a series of the early quarto editions of the separate plays of the English dramatists, nor were there even early collected editions of these writers, nor, indeed, generally even modern editions. Shakespeare was an exception. Mr. Daly owned good copies of the four folios, and a number of sets of the author's works in various editions. Of early quartos, there was only one, a copy of the second edition, 1631, of "Love's Labour's Lost."

On the other hand, the collection of material relating to the English stage, particularly as exemplified in the lives of its great players, was remarkable. The majority of the extra-illustrated books — and these must be considered the characteristic pieces of the collection — were of this character. The prices brought by some of these masterpieces of extra illustration seem stupendous to the uninitiated, but they were generally, probably in every case, much less than their original cost. When scarce prints and autograph letters, worth separately from fifty dollars to several hundred dollars, are inserted lavishly in a work, the total soon runs well into the thousands for a single book. His great copy of Peter Cunningham's "Nell Gwynn," inlaid from 12mo to folio, and extended to four volumes by the insertion of extra matter, brought $4300.00. The copy of Ireland's "Records of the New York Stage," inlaid from 8vo to folio, and extended from two volumes to forty-nine volumes, brought $6125.00. These were the two items of this character bringing the highest prices, but a number of other pieces of similar character brought upward of one thousand dollars.

Among the extra-illustrated books, not dramatic in character, the most notable was the great Bible, extended to forty-two volumes, large folio. This brought $5544.00. His famous copy of

PREFACE.

THE number of books sold at auction in the United States seems to be increasing year by year, and consequently the number of sales reported in American Book-Prices Current is increasing. In this volume we record 9662 lots of books and autographs, being by far the largest number recorded in any volume since the beginning of the work. It is, in fact, more than 50 per cent in excess of the number of sales recorded in our initial volume, which was only 6025.

These 9662 records have been selected from something over 113,000 lots, described in 164 catalogues, representing 279 days' sales. The New York auctioneers generally hold but a single session each day. Occasionally, however, they hold two sessions, as is done also generally by the auctioneers of Boston and Philadelphia. We find that of the 279 days on which sales took place, two sessions were held on 61 days. The total number of sessions therefore was 340. Last year the total number of lots was about 102,000, but the number of catalogues was only 117 and occupied only 250 days' sale. It would seem from this that, on the average, the sales this season, though more in number, were individually of less consequence, and this no doubt is the case. The library of Augustin Daly, comprised in its two catalogues 5263 lots. Aside from this one great sale there have been no first-class sales during the season. If the reader will glance over our chronological list, he will see that by far the majority of the catalogues described books brought together from various sources, or consigned by booksellers here or abroad, and which we designate as "Miscellaneous Collections." We give below the titles of the most important sales of legitimate libraries, where the books were all, or for the
